Formation of Orinda Master Plan Urged

The County Planning Commission was urged Monday night to make "every effort" to develop a master plan for Orinda which would maintain the community's "present high residential standards."

The request was contained in one of two resolutions on planning unanimously approved by the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee at its monthly meeting at the Orinda School library and recommended for adoption by the association board.

Offered by William Penn Mott Jr. of the association's Orinda Planning Committee, the resolution asking stepped-up county action urged "that additional business area or areas be provided only as required to serve the residents of Orinda and that nothing be done in the planning and development that will break down or destroy the established residential standards and values of the area."

The companion resolution, also offered by Mott, directed the Orinda Planning Committee, in its continuing "efforts to secure facts and information," to work "directly with the County Planning Commission in that body's endeavor to develop a detailed master plan for Orinda."

APPROVAL OF the resolutions was voted after a detailed progress report by Chairman Donn Sigerson of the Orinda Planning Committee on the committee's study of possible rezoning of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's Pine Grove land and of need for a master plan for Orinda.

Boone Robinson moved acceptance of the resolutions and recommendation of adoption by the association board. His motion was seconded by Horace Breed.

COPIES OF BOTH resolutions, if adopted by the board, are to be sent to the Board of Supervisors, the County Planning Commission, the Orinda representative on the Planning Commission (Joseph D. De Costa), each neighborhood association representative affiliated with the Orinda Association "and such other persons or organizations that the board (of the Orinda Association) deems necessary."

Sigerson reported that in a three-week period his committee had held four meetings and that it had scheduled two more meetings for this week.

"Our program is, first, to get facts and figures on all activities in the community," he said.

Conferences with Acalanes High School District and Orinda School District officials have been held, Sigerson said.

"THE ORINDA SCHOOL District states that it hopes to get 15 acres in the Pine Grove area, without resorting to condemnation proceedings, for a 12-classroom upper-grade school," Sigerson stated.

"We have a letter from Edgar Stewart, president of the Orinda School Board, to that effect, emphasizing that there is need for the upper-grade school to be opened by September, 1954.

Stewart informed us that the State Department of Education has said that the local school district is properly qualified under the State Aid Program to obtain financial assistance in the installation of such a school."

Sigerson said that "it was brought out that EBMUD is redrawing its Pine Grove plans, with the information that the school district wants to obtain 15 acres."

THE ACALANES High School District expects a minimum high school enrollment of 4800 by 1960, "with the possibility that it may be as high as 7000," Sigerson reported.

Sigerson said his committee was confronted first by the necessity to define Orinda.

"We defined Orinda," he said, "as coinciding approximately with the present elementary school district and approximately with the Orinda Post Office mailing area and the area to which Pacific Gas and Electric Company is bringing service here to a high-class, single-dwelling residential suburban area, where the average lot size is one-half acre."

OBJECTIVES OF the committee were described by Sigerson as:

"1. Maintain the present high level of Orinda as a residential community.

"2. Plan adequate facilities, such as schools, roads, shopping, recreation.

"3. No one phase of this development should be planned except as part of an over-all master plan."

"SUCH INFORMATION as the committee wants should be obtainable from the county technical planning staff," the committee head pointed out. "As of this moment we have not been able to obtain that information from the staff.

"It has just come to our attention that the county for several weeks has been considering advisability of a shopping center at the Pine Grove, at the direct request of Phil Wagner, EBMUD properties division manager. Tom Heaton, county planning technician, told that to the chairman of this committee this afternoon.

"The county planning technical staff has had a man studying this matter."

Later, Sigerson said that Richard Stockwell, associate county planner in charge of master plan details, has been working on this matter.

"WE WILL CERTAINLY explore the possibilities of getting the county to give us the information we need," Sigerson declared to the Civic Affairs delegates.

Sigerson reported that the committee had been unable to obtain definite information "on finalized plans for state and county roads."

"AT THIS TIME," the committee chairman stressed, "we see no justification for further business districts in Orinda."

Mott, prior to introducing the resolutions, pointed out:

"Getting actual facts is essential before reaching any conclusions and recommendations.

Civic Affairs Committee Chairman Frank Hart suggested that copies of the resolutions, if passed by the Orinda Association board, be sent to all improvement groups in Orinda. The delegates agreed that this would be a good move, in acquainting Orindans with both the problem and the efforts of the Orinda Planning Committee and the Orinda Association.

Sigerson stated that further study will be made on probable future density of population in Orinda.

Truckers Offer to Give Cooperation In Solving Rush Hour Traffic Problem

Trucking leaders of Contra Costa County promised cooperation in efforts to solve the problem of commute-hour crowdedness on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, at a meeting of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation board Tuesday night.

They stated they would try to re-route all trucks possible during peak hours and to re-schedule some trucks to off-peak hours.

Present at the meeting at the home of Federation Vice-Chairman Charles Nelson at 10 Orchard Court, Orinda, were Joseph Landini, new president of the Contra Costa Truck Owners Association and owner of Western Transportation Company; Walter A. Junge, head of Seaboard Transportation Company; Joe Nevis, owner of Nevis Trucking, Inc.; Vice-President Snyder of Seaboard; Carl Ando, director of safety for Nevis, and Clarence G. Taylor of San Francisco, representative of the California Motor Transport Association.

THE TRUCKING OFFICIALS had been invited to the session by the federation board, after complaints by the Lafayette Improvement Association and the Orinda Association.

Representatives of these two groups were also present — Horace Breed of the Orinda Association, who is a director of the federation, and Secretary Ray Crist of the Lafayette Improvement Association.

Representing the Contra Costa Commuters Association was Director Francis Schrupp of Lafayette.

JUNGE, WHOSE firm has been the target of most recent complaints, said his morning trucks should have their loads in San Francisco or Oakland by 7:30 a.m., and that his company would do its best to get them through this area before the heavy commute traffic. His drivers would be reminded not to stop for breakfast en route to their destination, he said.

Crist and the other community leaders expressed satisfaction with the offers of cooperation.

Both Junge and Nevis stressed their desire to avoid rush-hour traffic, so as to reduce delays and overtime as well as accidents and resulant insurance rate increases. Seaboard does hauling for Fibreboard Products.

The Contra Costa Truck Owners Association is affiliated with the Highway Federation.

THE TRUCKERS ASKED the federation to arrange a joint meeting with representatives of the trucking industry and appropriate state officials, to discuss various highway problems relating to peak-hour traffic.

This request was agreed to by the federation board, and Federation Chairman Elliot J. Hartman said he would try to arrange for such a meeting to be held in the near future.

The trucking leaders suggested that manual operation of the signals at Orinda Crossroads during peak hours would accommodate the traffic-flow more equitably.

The truckers also sugegsted that wherever possible, car pools be formed among commuters and that shoppers and other non-commute motorists try to keep off the highway as much as possible during the peak commute hours.

COUNTY ROAD PLANS, under both the $10,250,000 bond issue program and the capital outlay program, were the subject of a progress report by Bill Dalton, head of the construction section of the County Highway Department.

Dalton discussed the tentative program for Central Contra Costa in particular and also touched on the general county situation. At the federation's request, he agreed to send Hartman a list of projects tentatively planned for next couple of years.

Plans for back-road connections and extensions in the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek area were discussed by Dalton, who pointed out that realization of these plans depends on the county budget.

Bond Road Work: Lafayette-Orinda Plans Described

County plans for major road work in the Lafayette-Orinda area, under the $10,250,000 bond issue voted last year, are definitely "perking," but starting dates for actual construction will vary, ranging over a period of many months.

This was indicated this week by County Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer.

"Improvement and reconditioning of Moraga Road in Lafayette from Mt. Diablo Boulevard to Jonas Hill Road, is a very important project, and we're getting started on plans for it," Sauer said.

"We hope to get the work under way later this summer."

The road commissioner said that the general plan is for "a good, improved two-lane road all the way, with widening and adequate parking space as vital factors."

WIDENING OF San Pablo Creek Road (Orinda Highway) into a four-lane road from Orinda Crossroads to Miner Road will not get under way until completion by the state of the Orinda Interchange, Sauer stated.

"We couldn't very well start on this at the same time the state freeway job is on," he explained.

"When final plans for the Interchange come through, we'll be able to go on from there in our plans for the Orinda Highway widening."

PLEASANT HILL Road's conversion from two-lane to four-lane, from the intersection with Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette to well past Acalanes High School, is expected to be started next year, according to Sauer.

"This widening, like the Orinda Highway widening, will be related to a freeway interchange — in this case, the one at the junction of Pleasant Hill Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard," he pointed out.

"Unlike the Orinda Highway job, however, this project for the southern portion of Pleasant Hill Road will not have to wait for construction or completion of the interchange."

Some preliminary engineering work has already been done, he reported.

PLANS FOR WIDENING of the northern portion of the San Pablo Creek Road, starting from San Pablo, to four lanes, and similar widening of the northern portion of Pleasant Hill Road were described by Sauer as "well along."

"It is anticipated that construction on each of these two projects may get under way this summer," he said.

"AFTER THAT, projects for two brand new roads planned under the bond program, the Crockett Road and the Kirker Pass Road, will be tackled. The Crockett Road will go from Crockett to Arnold Industrial Highway.

"Preparatory work on those projects is expected for later this summer."

Sauer described the San Pablo Creek Road, Pleasant Hill Road, Crockett Road and Kirker Pass Road projects as "the four main jobs now scheduled under the bond program."

"However," he added, "we realize the importance of the Moraga Road project in Lafayette. That's a job the urgency of which has been stressed by Lafayette organizations and individuals."

Association Reorganization Proposed; Plan Would Eliminate Civic Affairs

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Far-reaching reorganization of the Orinda Association, "to unify the community better, in preparation for incorporation some day," was proposed Monday night by Chairman Frank Hart to the association's Civic Affairs Committee.

Hart suggested that director-candidates be nominated by local improvement groups, according to precinct, and that the present Civic Affairs Committee be abolished.

"Each director could have as many as five persons to assist him in the field to which the director is assigned," Hart said. "For instance, the director in charge of planning would pick the five most qualified persons throughout the Orinda area to be his committee.

"These committees — call them advisory or study groups or anything you wish — would replace the Civic Affairs Committee.

"THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION," Hart emphasized, at the monthly Civic Affairs meeting at the Orinda School library, "could become much more effective if reorganized on the same basis as a city council, according to precincts. Each 'councilman' would be responsbile for a certain activity and would have his committee.

"It would be the nearest thing to an incorporated city setup without actually being incorporated."

Considerable discussion was held on the suggestion, which, all present agreed, was merely being "kicked around" for further consideration.

The subject came up wnen Association President Peter Veitch raised the question of respective responsibilities of the Board of Directors and the Civic Affairs Committee.

William Penn Mott Jr. told how the Civic Affairs Committee had originally been formed to give adequate representation to all groups in Orinda, on both sides of the state highway.

"THE CIVIC AFFAIRS Committee is supposed to be a sounding board for the community and to make recommendations to the board, the official governing body," he explained.

"Is that the proper way for the Orinda Association to function now?" Hart questioned. "The directorate now has under consideration revision of the by-laws, and it's appropriate to consider this problem.

"As things are now, you have two bodies meeting, neither one with too much power. The Civic Affairs Committee is not in a position to make even the simplest decisions. I just can't understand a group of intelligent people continuing in a treadmill, getting nowhere."

MOTT SAID HE thought the association could be "much more streamlined and much more effective" if reorganized along the lines suggested by Hart.

"Actually, except for the first few years, attendance at Civic Affairs meetings has been poor," Mott added. "Instead of 30 to 50 organizations represented, there have often probably been only eight or 10. At this meeting tonight the delegates probably represent only a fourth of the organizations in Orinda."

(Ten organizations were represented by delegates Monday night.)

HOWEVER, BOONE ROBINSON of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association declared:

"Most questions confronting Orinda have to be settled in Martinez.

State C of C To Get Requests On Freeway Jobs

Lafayette Freeway and the Walnut Creek By-Passes will top the list of projects to be requested by county and area representatives at the June 29 hearing to be conducted in Martinez by the State Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

"We will list the highway projects needed in the county," Manager Iona Booth of the Contra Costa County Development Association said this week.

"WE'RE LISTING the Lafayette Freeway and the Walnut Creek By-Passes first."

The session will be held at the Development Association office at 838 Escobar Street ,starting at 10 a.m., Mrs. Booth said.

Chairman Elliot J. Hartman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation announced that, on behalf of the federation, he will request early construction of the balance of the Diablo Freeway, from Orinda on to Concord, and a state engineering study of the proposed Shepherd Canyon Freeway route, to establish rights of way.

REQUESTS MADE at the meeting will be forwarded by the state chamber group to the California Highway Commission.

Mrs. Booth said that requests in additioin to those for the Lafayette Freeway, Walnut Creek By-Passes and Shepherd Canyon Freeway will include the following, which she described as "mostly freeway requests":

HIGHWAY 21 (State Route 107) from Walnut Creek to the Alameda County line.

Highway 24 (State Route 75) from Martinez to Walnut Creek.

U.S. Highway 40.

Franklin Canyon Highway (Highway 4: State Route 106) from Hercules to Martinez.

Richmond area by-pass (State Route 69), the route to become part of the Richmond-San Rafael bridge approach.

Park Pool Plans First Social

The first social event of the season for Orinda Park Pool Inc., will be next Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the pool.

All members planning on attending must call Connie Smith at Orinda 8267 or Ann Bailey at Orinda 2948 to find out what to bring, a hot dish, salad or dessert.

Each couple should bring enough food for eight servings.

District Attorney Prepares Revised Subdivision Law

The County District Attorney's office is now preparing a second revised subdivision ordinance to be presented to the Board of Supervisors Thursday.

The ordinance to be presented represents a compromise law drawn up after several meetings between county officials, representatives of subdividers, contractors and other groups.

THERE ARE STILL areas of disagreement between the county and the contractors, but they are relatively minor, according to Matt Walker of the district attorney's office.

Where there is disagreement, alternate proposals will be presented to the supervisors.

Work was started on the recommendations of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County according to Fred Kracke of the association.

Kracke said that the original law had been so amended that it was difficult for contractors to kniw what was expected of them and difficult to estimate jobs correctly.

The committee that worked out the compromise ordinance was composed of representatives of county departments, title insurance companies, the contractor's association and subdividers.

THE FIRST PUBLIC hearing on the first revised ordinance was held May 28 before the supervisors. The supervisors sent the ordinance back to the committee when the ordinance was protested.

Since then the committee has held three full day sessions.

Walker told The SUN that the major points of disagreement still existing are:

1. Street paving on minor streets. Contractors want a 26 foot minimum curb to curb width. The conuty seeks a 28 foot minimum and a compromise 27 foot minimum specification is also being drawn up.

2. DRAINAGE. The county seeks covered drainage ditches. Contractors seek open ditches.

3. Drainage ditch fencing. The county seeks to have chain link or cyclone fence installed if open ditches are allowed. The contractors seek a redwood board fence requirement.

4. The right of way on cul de sacs. The county seeks a 50 foot minimum and the contractors want a 40 foot minimum.

Walker said that there are other differences, but, they are minor and technical.

In agreements, the contractors won the battle to have rolled curbs required, instead of vertical curbs. The exact specifications for the curbs have not been agreed on.

The major agreement was made on road structure requirements.

The contractors agreed to a provision to require curb and gutter for all lots less than 100 feet in frontage. They also agreed to a sidewalk requirement on lots up to 75 feet in length.

Herbert Dwight to Receive Navy Rank

Herbert M. Dwight Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dwight of 33 Orchard Road, Orinda, was among 25 men commissioned in the Navy and Marine Corps by the Department of Naval Science at Stanford University last Saturday.

He received a commission as Ensign, United States Navy.

A graduate of South Pasadena High School, Dwight majored in electrical engineering while at Stanford.

He will take six weeks of amphibious training at Coronado and serve aboard the U.S.S. George Clymer.

Planning Group Members Active Men of Orinda

All the members of the Orinda Planning Committee are men who are active in community endeavors. They are:

Chairman Donn Sigerson, who helped line up the program for the successful "Town Hall" public meeting on planning held at Orinda School April 23 under auspices of the Orinda Association.

William Penn Mott Jr., long a leader in civic activities and an authority on park and recreational problems; superintendent of parks for the city of Oakland.

Boone Robinson, a director of the Independent Citizens Planning League.

Joseph Creighton, who has been in the forefront of many Orinda struggles for maintenance of local zoning standards.

E. J. Fowler Jr., active in Orindans, Inc.

Decision of Water District Follows Meeting with Orinda Planning Group

The East Bay Municipal Utility District announced yesterday that application for the rezoning of the Pine Grove area will be filed with the County Board of Supervisors "at the earliest possible time."

This announcement followed a meeting Wednesday night between EBMUD officials and the Orinda Planning Committee.

The committee, headed by Donn Sigerson, requested the utility company to postpone filing until the need for such business development could be determined or until master planning procedures could be worked out to control the zoning.

Sigerson asked for three weeks' delay, specifically to get plans under way.

John McFarland, general manager of EBMUD, answered the request in a letter to Sigerson yesterday. He said:

"IN EFFECT, of course, a request for us to defer action for several weeks is in reality a request to defer action for from one to three years, because that is the time that has been estimated for master planning to be accomplished.

"I think it is obvious that the Utility District can not commit itself to such a deferment. We have been trying for several years to get a determination of the rezoning of our potential business property at the Crossroads and are anxious to get as early a decision as possible in order that we may finalize pending sales."

Following are some of the highlights of the discussion at the Wednesday night meeting which led to the EBMUD decision. Present were Sigerson, William Penn Mott Jr. and Boone Robinson of the committee and McFarland, Phil Wagner and Hart Eastman of EBMUD.

MOTT: "What basic indication shows that this business development is necessary for Orinda? How many houses do we have? What population? How much business?"

McFarland: "The Orinda School District covers about 10 square miles. That seems to indicate a saturation population of about 20,000 people. I'm no expert, but that seems to indicate an even greater need than Pine Grove could satisfy. That saturation point could come in five years.

"EBMUD controls the land that will make that possible, and we intend to dispose of it as soon as possible. As soon as sanitary disposal is assured it will be up for sale."

Sigerson: "How much land do you have in Orinda?"

WAGNER: "ABOUT 3000 ACRES. It's only reasonable to assume that planning will ask for more business zoning than we've requested."

McFarland: "And we are going to get the most money for that land that we can."

Sigerson: "If the Orinda School District purchases 15 acres of the 33-acre Pine Grove site, and if you file for rezoning, will you file for additional acreage for business?"

McFARLAND: "No, I think not."

Sigerson: "It would be poor business policy to sell more land to business property than an area can support."

McFarland: "Right."

Sigerson: "How have you arrived at the amount of property needed for that purpose?"

McFarland: "We don't do that. That is up to the purchaser of the land. They just ask us if the property is for sale."

Sigerson: If you have a prospective purchaser, would you let us know who it is so that we might talk to him?"

McFarland: "Well, probably not, but we would be glad to suggest to any prospective customer that he contact you."

Sigerson: "Would you hold up Pine Grove until the facts are available?"

McFarland: "We have been talking about this several years. When we have had previous informal discussions, we have been blasted by adverse criticism by the press and by word of mouth.

"WE ARE IN the water business and not experts in planning. What we have done is to hire expert opinion, Kenneth Jones (a San Francisco planning consultant) to tell us what to do. He was qualified, and we think logical. We have received no better suggestions.

"We think we're ready to move and have an obligation to do so. We will rest our case with the County Planning Commission."

AT THIS POINT Sigerson pointed out that within the next year expert advice would be forthcoming from the County Planning Commission, but that EBMUD would be "precipitating the thing."

"We would like to ask the utility company not to do that," he said, "but to help the county speed up master planning and get the right answer. To have this done in a

C of C Opposes Business Area At Pine Grove

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce went on record Tuesday opposing development of the Pine Grove land as a shopping center at present.

The action was taken at the noon meeting of the chamber at Casa Orinda.

CONSENSUS OF members was that all available commercial lands in Orinda should be developed to their maximum before more land is set aside for additional business areas.

It was also stated that the acreage between the Crossroads and the Village, on the west side of Orinda Highway, sohuld be developed to tie in with the two present business sections.

MEMBERS EXPRESSED the opinion that any action now for a Pine Grove business area would be premature, and that there is sufficient space in the business areas at the Crossroads and in the Village for the present and the near future.

E. J. Phair pointed out that any planning for changes in Orinda business sections must necessarily hinge on the new Orinda Highway to be built by the county.

CHAMBER MEMBERS agreed with Phair that the route of the road when it is reconstructed should follow the creek west of the present Orinda Highway and back of the Village.

In this way, it was pointed out, the reconstructed road would stem from the Orinda Underpass of the freeway, and directly connect with the Village.

THE CHAMBER DECIDED to check with the county on plans for the Orinda Highway reconstruction. Plans under the $10,250,000 county bond issue program voted last year call for a four-lane road up to Miner Road, according to County Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer.

Ramsay Underwood reported that the Orinda Planning Committee wanted to know whether Orinda businessmen viewed the future Orinda business section as a neighborhood shopping center or as a sort of central suburban shopping center.

BUS SHELTER and commuter parking problems entered the discussion. Underwood said:

"If the East Bay Municipal Utility District doesn't get the Pine Grove rezoned for business, they won't be favorably inclined toward donating land for the bus shelter and parking area."

An area on the west side of the Orinda Highway, approximately across from the Christian Science Church, has been mentioned as a possibility for such a site.

WHERE TO MOVE the shelter when the Orinda Interchange construction starts and how to take care of parking are of prime importance. Underwood stressed.

He pointed out that the community woud look to merchants and landowners to provide parking space for shoppers and commuters.

Walter Friberg was appointed to ask the state highway authorities when the bus shelter will have to be moved from its present location near the Shell service station on the north side of the Crossroads.

PRESIDENT John Stoffel named the following committee chairmen:

Civic Affairs, Ramsay Underwood.

Bus shelter, Walter Friberg.

Roads and highways, R. E. Wadsworth.

Christmas decorations, Tom Horton.

Civic betterment, Ewart Phair.

Business directory, Andy Blalock.

14 Orinda Road Jobs Will Start After July 1

Shortly after July 1 a program of construction and resurfacing is expected to be started by the county for 14 Orinda roads.

Seven of the roads are south of Mt. Diablo Boulevard. Seven are north of the state highway.

COUNTY ROAD Commissioner Victor W. Sauer announced this week that the work will be started shortly after bids for the jobs are opened by the Board of Supervisors at 11 a.m. July 1.

Bids for reconstruction of the surfacing of roads south of the highway were called for by the board on June 2.

These roads are Valley View Drive, Don Gabriel Way, La Cresta Road, Valencia Road, Culver Court, Barbara Road and Underhill Road, according to Assistant Road Commissioner George Berry.

BIDS WERE CALLED for on June 9 for road work north of the highway.

This program, Berry explained, includes reconstruction of Brookbank Road, Ranch Road, Oak Lane, Las Vegas, Washington Lane and Normandy Lane and construction of Via Las Cruces, the new conection between Las Vegas and Honey Hill Road, across St. Stephen's Episcopal Church property.

How Do You Make Weather Plans?

We found the weatherman mumbling to himself about "master planning — I'd like to see a master plan for the weather . . ."

We interrupted him long enough to ask for the weather report, which he gave us, saying:

"Weather is not predictable. You simply cannot plan for it. Now if I were in Martinez, and had some authority, I would . . ."

"The weather," we said.

"Between June 11 and Thursday morning, the high was Sunday with 80 degrees," he said grumpily. "There was no rain, and the low was Saturday with 40 degrees."

"But I wish someone would do some weather master planning."

Concord, CCCSD Dispute Annexation

Opposition to Clayton Valley's request for annexation to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District continued to shape up in Concord this week.

Monday City Manager Ray Doran reportedly told Gerry Horstkotte, district engineer, that groups in Concord will fight the annexation with every means at their disposal.

Doran allegedly said that every aspect of the district's operation and administration will be subjected to the sharpest criticism, if the annexation proposal is followed up.

Last week the Concord City Council indicated opposition to the plan. Councilman Norbert Gehringer expressed the opinion that the sanitary district is seeking an area where service will not cost too much, to offset costs of operating the present district.

Tuesday of this week Horstkotte and John Nejedly, attorney for the district, met with Doran to explain the district's point of view.

The substance of that explanation and a statement of Concord's views, are presented below:

Sanitary District

The policy of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District is to study all requests and permit annexation when it will benefit new areas without impairing service to those already within the district.

Nejedly referred to this policy in expaining that the district is not "seeking" annexation of certain areas in Clayton Valley.

Nejedly stated the official district policy and went on to express his own views as attorney for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

He said that many requests for annexation came before the district board after that policy was recently announced. Of the numerous requests, most were for small annexations and one was for the large areas in Clayton Valley and near the Monument.

THE RESIDENTS themselves petitioned the district to study the possibility of annexing their homes, according to Nejedly. The district agreed to undertake a survey if those residents would put up money to cover the costs, which they did, he added.

That study is now under way. It is still to be decided if the sanitary district can serve that area beneficially without hindering effective operation of the present district, he explained.

Nejedly's comments were in response to reported charges by Concord officials that the Central Sanitary District is seeking to annex sections of Clayton Valley and, in so doing, is theratening to strangle further growth of that city.

Nejedly said the district has no such intention and expressed the opinion that annexation to the district, were it to take place, would in no way strangle Concord.

HE REPORTED that Concord officials were notified when Clayton residents submitted their request for annexation. He also revealed that representatives of the sanitary district told Clayton residents that they have the alternative of annexing to the city of Concord to obtain sewers.

The district is only attempting to answer the questions of the people as to "the best means of serving the area and also the area that drains through it," he said.

Nejedly reported that the Water Pollution Board, the State Health Department and the County Health Department say it is desirable, whenever possible, that the people should have all the facts so that multiplicity of sanitary systems can be avoided.

As the Central Sanitary District is the largest in the county, it is logical that it should accept the responsibility of supplying that information when it is requested, he said.

Concord

Alymer Hussey, Mayor of Concord, explained that he is against annexation of a section of Clayton Valley to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District because he regards that section as a logical future annexation to Concord.

"We don't want anyone to feel that we're forcing them," Hussey said, adding that he believes Clayton Valley should come into the city and obtain sewer service from the city system.

"I feel that drainage of our little valley should be the determining factor" in the solution of the problem, he said.

Hussey said he considers the residents of Clayton Valley as much a part of the city of Concord as anyone living there now. The area is the natural one for future expansion of Concord, he added.

He explained that some residents of Clayton want to stay in the country and are afraid that they will have to join the city unless sewers are obtained from the Central Sanitary District.

He expressed the hope that those residents will consider the facts, change their thinking and realize that the police, water and recreation facilities they want can best be obtained by joining Concord.

He pointed out that various overlapping tax districts would be necessary to provide those services in the valley if it stayed outside the city.

Hussey also questioned the exactness of cost figures given valley residents by representatives of the Central Sanitary District, saying that they are not based on any survey.

Ray Doran, Concord City Manager, reported that Concord's sewer system will soon be expanded and will be able to serve the Clayton area.

Bids will be let in the fall for additives to the sewage plant which will enable it to serve 21,000 people, he explained.

Doran said that a pamphlet describing the advantages of annexing to Concord is now being prepared. "I hope these people will look into our side," he said.

Doran and Hussey both reported that the Concord City Council has not made any official statements about the annexation. However, authoritative sources report that the Council is "unalterably opposed" to annexation of Clayton to the Central Sanitary District.

It is reported that the Concord Chamber of Commerce is lining up a campaign against the plan.

Facts Requested On Pine Grove

Continued opposition of businessmen to development of a Pine Grove shopping center at this time was voiced by Stanley Allen Wednesday night.

Allen told the Orinda Planning Committee that a meeting will be held "early next week" to arrive at the facts and figures of present and future business development in Orinda.

Allen, representing the business interests of the area, had been asked to present accurate figures to the committee which would indicate how much business development Orinda would need in the future, and how much it could support at the present time. Present with Allen was Horace Breed.

"I think the business people are taking a very reasonable attitude on this," Allen said. "We will welcome an additional zoned business area if a study indicates a pressing need for it now or in the forseeable future."

Allen told Committee Chairman Donn Sigerson and members Boone Robinson and William Penn Mott Jr. that "possible findings might make us (businessmen) look unwise in opposing this, but we don't know."

Asked by Sigerson how his group would feel about getting an Orinda master plan going right away, Allen said:

"I think the Chamber of Commerce and people will go along with any facts. I doubt if it can be done in 30 days or 60 days . . . it might be done in 90 days."

Allen stressed that the present business area of Orinda "does not even approach that of the development proposed by the East Bay Municipal Utility District for Pine Grove."

He presented figures based on the operation of Sprouse-Reitz Company, with which he is connected, that gave no indication that a larger business area is needed or will be for quite a while.

"The merchants would be wholeheartedly behind a planning procedure which would provide a definite pattern for the growth of the area," he continued. "We are not convinced that the only answer to such growth lies in a large shopping center. We will have facts to present to the meeting Monday night of the Orinda Association Board of Directors."

Red Cross Makes Appeal for Funds For Disaster Aid

An appeal for additional funds to help in the disaster areas, resulting from the recent tornadoes and floods, is being made to all residents of the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross area.

Edmund Barnett, chairman of the local chapter, points out that the last two months have been among the most destructive and costly in Red Cross disaster experience. Since April 18, there have been 14 major disaster operations and the relief and rehabilitation costs have been so great that the disaster budget for the fiscal year has been virtually wiped out.

In the past two months floods hit Kansas, Louisiana, Texas, Montana and Iowa and tornadoes devastated Texas, Michigan, New Hampshire, Alabama, Georgia and Massachussetts.

The Red Cross has set up shelters, canteens, issued large supplies of blood plasma and helped in rehabilitating the homeless but the demand continues and the support of all the American people is needed to help victims in the disaster areas to return to normal living.

All residents are requested to send or bring their contributions to the Chapter House, Ygnacio Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Wagner Explains Checkup Request On Population

Phil Wagner, properties division manager for the East Bay Municipal Utility District, stated this week that his recent request to the County Planning Commission's technical staff was an effort to learn if future estimated population of Orinda warranted rezoning of the Pine Grove land.

"I went to the commission two or three weeks ago and asked them if they felt that the Pine Grove area ought to be rezoned for business, with future population growth of Orinda as the criterion," he said.

"Planning Technician Tom Heaton told me they were making an over-all study of Contra Costa County, in connection with development of a master plan, and that it wouldn't be out of line to make a study of any particular area.

"MY ENGINEERS have been reviewing population trends in Orinda. Kenneth F. Jones of San Francisco, the planning consultant who drew our proposed plan for Pine Grove and the strip on the west side of Orinda Highway, had speculated an ultimate population of around 20,000 for Orinda. Jones was with me when I asked the county planning technicians to let me know their opinion.

"I haven't heard yet from the Planning Commission's technical staff."

ASSISTANT COUNTY Planning Technician H. Russell Griffith said that Associate County Planner Richard Stockwell, in charge of master plan details, had made a study of the matter, and that his estimate of ultimate Orinda population came "very close" to that of Jones.

"All our office did was to make a study to see if the same figures for future population would be arrived at as had been estimated by Jones," Griffith said.

WAGNER DENIED that EBMUD was redrawing its Pine Grove plans, in view of the Orinda School District's desire for 15 acres of Pine Grove land for an upper-grade school site, as reported by Chairman Donn Sigerson of the Orinda Planning Committee to the Civic Affairs Committee Monday night.

"We aren't redrawing our plans," Wagner said. "Thinking that perhaps there might be both a school site and a business area at the Pine Grove, I asked our engineers if there would be 15 acres for a school site in such a parcel.

"They told me they didn't think there would be."

Local Girl Visits Pre-Aztec Ruins

Iris Dempster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dempster of 15 El Toyonal in Orinda, got a first-hand look at the great pyramids of Teotihoacan in Mexico.

She traveled to the site of the giant stoneworks, believed to have been built during the pre-Aztec period, with 50 other students of the Verde Valley School in Arizona. The pyramids were a stop on a 4,000 mile field trip to study historic and modern civilization in Mexico.

She is a member of the second class that will graduate this month from the college preparatory school which has developed a pioneer method to train students in human relations and international understanding.

Highway Patrol to Have Benefit Show

Members of the Contra Costa County Squad of the California Highway Patrol will present a review and parade as part of their eighth annual benefit to be held at the Contra Costa Speedway in Pacheco July 8.

The show is to benefit the California Association of Highway Patrolmen Widows and Orphans Fund.

Joe Chitwood's Gold Star Daredevils will be featured. Captain George A. Belon, commander of the Martinez squad, is general chairman, and A. Siri, club president, and William R. Hamilton, benefit show director, will assist.

McGuires Moving

Mrs. Catherine McGuire and her two sons have moved from 23 Valley Drive, Orinda, and are staying temporarily at 15 Glorietta Court, Orinda, while their new home is being completed.

"OH BOY, LOOK AT THAT STEAK," says Mrs. William Lindberg, left, as Leo Pasquini holds up a big, juicy T-bone. Leo, owner of the Lafiesta butcher shop, has offered a steak just like it to each person who donates a pint of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile when it stops in Lafayette June 22. Holding out her "pint of blood" as evidence is Mrs. Harold Fredericks, who knows a good thing when she sees it.

Plan for Ass'n Reorganization

since we're not incorporated. The only power here is that of persuasion. There would be a much better chance of unanimity of Orinda community opinion in Martinez with the continued existence of the Civic Affairs Committee."

E. J. Fowler Jr. of Orindans, Inc., agreed with Robinson.

"IF PEOPLE ARE interested enough to participate in community activities, they should see that they have representation on an over-all body such as this," he maintained.

Hart read from a suggested nominating ballot form he had prepared, which he proposed be sent to each organization in precincts where Orinda Association directorship vacancies will occur.

He said he would like to have the nominating forms sent out in August and returned to the present Civic Affairs Committee in September, so that the election could be held in October and the new board would be able to assume active leadership promptly at the beginning of 1954.

EACH ORGANIZATION, under this plan, would be able to nominate two persons from the specified precinct for the board.

Robinson pointed out that precincts overlap in certain areas where various improvement groups function.

Hart replied that that problem could be solved by mutual agreement of groups involved or by simple majority rule in a precinct.

Horace Breed offered to submit other possible nominating ballot forms at the July 20 Civic Affairs meeting. It was agreed that such additional forms would be considered then.

THE FORM PROPOSED by Hart would allow for nominations of director-candidates for two-year terms on the board and would have spaces for information about the candidates' community activities and background.

Robinson argued: "It seems to me that in eliminating the Civic Affairs Committee we'd be weakening the effectiveness of the local improvement associations."

"No," Hart answered, "we'd be strengthening them."

William Wilke of the Orinda Oaks Association observed:

"In our area of about 50 homes there are a half-dozen tracts. Our organization wouldn't have a chance to elect someone to the Orinda Association board."

HART SAID THAT under his plan directors' advisory committees would be set up only in those fields where they were necessary. He enumerated the community's "big problems" as over-all planning, roads, sanitation and parks and recreation.

"I'm trying to strengthen the Orinda Association," Hart stated. "The whole Orinda Association would take on a completely different cast. It would really be able to do something for your community."

FOWLER SUGGESTED that the whole proposal was one which ought to be thought over "for a while."

"That's right," agreed Hart. "It's only in the embryonic stages now. If President Veitch likes what we've said tonight, he might want to appoint a committee of his own from the board, to look into the matter."

School Site Now In Fire District

The Moraga Del Rey School site was withdrawn from the Eastern Contra Costa County Fire Protection District and was annexed to the Orinda County Fire Protection District Tuesday.

The action by the Board of Supervisors followed hearings that morning on the Orinda School District's requests for the withdrawal and the annexation.

The Inland Valley Association's request for similar withdrawal and annexation for Inland Valley was set by the supervisors for a July 14, 10 a. m. hearing.

The Inland Valley letter asking annexation to the Orinda Fire District was signed by Stanley Gould Jr., association president, who stated that a petition requesting the action had been signed by all but two property owners who were away on vacation, and that previously all owners had indicated their desire for the action.

Brownies Fly-up To Scout Status

Orinda Brownie Troop 5 held a candlelight Fly-up ceremony at the Orinda Community Church May 27.

The families of the girls "flying-up" were present, with the fathers taking part in the ceremony by tying the ties on the new girl scouts.

Susan Hammond and Susan Starkman, younger brownies, saw the girls off on their fly-up, and the new scouts were welcomed by girl scouts Tamara Hartanov and Linda Eberhart.

Mrs. Francis Wyatt, next year's girl scout leader for troop 5, pinned on the scout pins.

The girls all sang "Girl Scouts Together," after which they were hostesses to their families for refreshments.

Girls flying-up were Carol Jane Harmon, Vicki Indig, Joan Eberhart, Betty Lou Kendall, Rozlynn Starkman, Catherine Cline, Kathleen Stafford, Gail Kocher, Nelle Neighbor, Tamara Hartanov, Susan Hammond, Susan Starkman, Bonnie Willes, Kathleen Baldwin, Patricia Wyatt and Linda Eberhart.

District that further subdivisions will be a very costly project. We've talked on the phone about this with Ernest Spiegl." (Spiegl, an Orinda resident, is acting president of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District Board.)

REGARDING THE MORAGA area, Sigerson said:

"It's unquestionable that there will be some sort of shopping center there. That also applies to the Rheem development."

The Planning Committee, the chairman continued, has given "some thought" to the perspective that, instead of one big shopping center, Orinda develop "localized, 'corner' shopping centers."

HE STATED THAT Capwell's, Safeway and Maxwell's, "among others," have made studies of the Orinda area. "Preliminary studies by our committee indicate that these stores do not feel they would get the necessary support locally," he commented.

"Such stores," Sigerson added, "would be detrimental to Orinda. We don't want Orinda to be thoroughfares for other areas."

CHP Auxiliary Protests Order Abolishing Unit

Some 65 California Highway Patrol Auxiliary Patrolmen from throughout this area Wednesday night unanimously protested the abolition of the auxiliary, ordered for June 30.

Meeting in a specially called session at Lafayette School, the group approved the following resolution, to be sent to CHP Commissioner B. R. Caldwell in Sacramento, with a copy going to Governor Earl Warren:

"THE MEMBERS of the auxiliary most strenuously protest the action taken by the commissioner of the California Highway Patrol in terminating the California Highway Patrol Auxiliary.

"We have given 5838 hours of service to the state and have invested in uniforms $5153 of our own money.

"It is our sincere feeling that to disband the auxiliary would be a terrible mistake. The repercussion that this well have on the entire civilian defense of the State of California is inestimible and certainly does not serve the best interests of the people of the State of California.

"WE MOST SINCERELY petition the commissioner to rescind his order until a meeting has been arranged with the governor of the State of California, the commissioner, representatives of the Legislature and a body representing the California Highway Patrol Auxiliary."

Caldwell's order was sent via teletype to all CHP captains, according to Karl T. Goeppert, who introduced the protest resolution and who was county head of the CHP Auxiliary until about four months ago. The order stated:

"LEGISLATIVE ACTION has terminated the CHP Auxiliary as of 30 June, 1953. Immediately suspend all auxiliary unit recruiting, application processing and training. Deactivation procedures will be issued shortly."

The protest resolution was to be signed by J. Hart of 3215 Palamares Avenue, Lafayette, recording secretary of the county unit of the auxiliary.

Goeppert said that the auxiliary, organized about a year and a half ago, has 124 men in this county and some 5000 throughout the state. He said that the Legislature has decreed that no money is to be spent on the auxiliary in any way. This, he stated, would preclude any auxiliary activity or any training of auxiliary personnel by Highway Patrol officers.

Lot-Dividing Request Denied

Protests by residents of the area resulted in recommendation by the County Planning Commission Tuesday night that Elbert A. Dawson Jr.'s lot-divide request be denied.

Dawson had asked for a permit to divide a lot in Orinda Park Terrace, fronting on North Lane, into two lots of less than a half-acre each, according to Assistant Planning Technician H. Russell Griffith.

Joseph D. De Costa, planning commissioner from Orinda, moved for recommendation of denial. His motion was unanimously passed.

De Costa stated that he had received phone calls of objection from several neighbors of Dawson. He also stated that the two lots which would result, if Dawson's plan to put a road through to another piece of his property were granted, would be substandard.

Those who phoned De Costa and whose names had been given to the Planning Commission as objecting to the request were, Griffith said, William Penn Mott Jr., S. E. Wilder, C. D. Ford, Mr. Lydedia and Mr. Kedsdever.

Following the planners' meeting, Griffith said the road Dawson wanted to put through his land would divide it into one lot of 13,000 square feet and one of 16,000 square feet.

The area is zoned R-A, for half-acre (21,780 square feet) lot-size.

Reitzel to Speak To Diablo Artists

An opportunity to see an outstanding artist in action will be offered to members of the Diablo Art Association and the public at the June 22 meeting in St. Pauls Episcopal Church, Walnut Avenue, Walnut Creek at 8 p.m.

The guest speaker, Marques Reitzel, is a famous artist and teacher, and head of the art department of San Jose State College.

Hiram Meulendyke, president of the D.A.A., announced that Reitzel will paint a landscape in oil, and at the same time discuss his methods and reasons for them, covering such phases as composition, technique, and colors.

Visitors will be greeted by the new welcoming committee of Elise Albright, Kay Alexander and Mrs. Charles B. Rasmussen, and coffee will be served by Janet Newton and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Adult Center to Offer Classes

The Acalanes Adult Center will offer a course in "Principles of Upholstery" this summer, according to Art Dambacher, director of adult education.

The class will be held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in room 503, the woodshop, at Acalanes High School, and is open to all who are interested.

Dambacher said that if there is enough interest, three sessions will be held, from 9 to noon, 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. The Saturday sessions will be limited to the daytime.

Information will be given at the first meeting of the course, and instruction will actually begin then, he said.

The instructor will be Stanley Black, industrial arts teacher at the high school.

Wise shoppers patronize hometown merchants. They save money and they know the local merchant is interested in the community.

Action Due on Pine Grove Plan

hurry would seem to me precipitous."

He also asked McFarland if he would make available to the committee the information from Jones which indicated that a business district would be practical at this time. McFarland agreed to this.

"BUT," said McFarland, "we intend to take positive action and we will go to the Planning Commission. If they say wait for master planning, OK."

Sigerson asked why EBMUD was so interested in having it rezoned when any prospective purchaser could do it, to which McFarland replied that the land would be worth more zoned for business instead of residential.

"We have to get the most out of it, and our price of $575,000 is based on that," he said.

After considerable discussion about whether or not multiple dwelling units should be considered as a buffer strip around Pine Grove, Sigerson asked McFarland what Planning Technician Tom Heaton had done for him, and would the facts be available.

WAGNER COMMENTED that he only had asked Heaton if it should be a business district or not, to which Mott replied by asking when Heaton would give a planning consideration. Wagner said he didn't know.

McFarland then asked, "how about asking him to rezone it? That will bring it to a head."

Sigerson pointed out that there would be no time for planning after the request for rezoning was filed.

Then Sigerson asked McFarland if EBMUD would be willing to give the committee three weeks before filing in order to get Martinez to work on planning.

"AS SOON AS YOU FILE that application, we know what will happen," he said.

McFarland said that he would answer that question before Monday, and commented that "if the application is to be filed, it will be within a week. That does not mean that we will not go ahead and work with the Orinda Association."

Gossip for Gourmets

Would you pay $2.00 a quart for ice cream? I wouldn't either, that is, not until I'd sampled some of that Hollywood kind that's made by Wil Wrights. Did my family tear through the first quart I took home.

Just between you and your school girl figure, I don't recommend large servings as an aid to your diet, but don't turn down the chance to try it.

It's really the finest money can buy, even at $2.00 a quart.

I'm Thinking!

By

Bill Simpson

Yes, my gears are really whirling. I'm trying to figure a way to keep you gals from thinking that for a real buy in carpeting you have to go through that tunnel.

Yes, I know that the big ads have been offering $20-a-yard carpeting for $1.88 a yard. We'd sure like to sell it for $1.87, but after looking at some of the alleged "steals" these boys are offering (just for the heck of it I go on an occasional spying trip), I know darn well that we can give you values equal to or better than any of them.

As an example: Custom-dyed cotton rugs (you name the color) in Capistrano . . . a luxurious cut pile . . . or Sorrento . . . an elegant loop pile. Regularly sells for 6.95 . . . this week we'll sell them for 5.45 a sq. yd.

So, if you're in the market for a carpet, go downtown if you must, but before you part with any cash, come in and give us a whirl.

Cordially,

Bill

P. S. This doesn't have much to do with carpets, but if any of you dear readers know of someone who needs a nifty, one-bedroom apartment, have them give me a jingle.

BACK ON THE TRACK goes a freight train of the Diablo Valley Line with the aid of engineer Martin Ericson. The train is part of a system now being built by the Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society in its clubhouse near the Southern Pacific Depot on Railroad Avenue in Walnut Creek.

Model Railroad Society to Present Small Scale Countryside to Public

By BILL STANTON

A complete oil refinery has been built in Walnut Creek. And it's only part of the project.

The empire is HO guage (3½ millimeters represent an inch) and the 15 men who are constructing it are members of the Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society.

The project can be found in an aluminum building near the Southern Pacific Railroad Depot on Railroad Avenue. It is on a 20 by 40 foot platform in a 30 by 50 foot building.

At present, Potterstown, a miniature town named after Dr. Dwight Potter, a club member, is almost complete.

A freight yard and a switching station are under construction and a farm scene is being built.

The backbone of the Diablo Valley Line, as the club has named its railroad, is a mainline system. It represents a 9 mile run and uses 550 feet of track. To build the track, some 15,000 ties were laid, one by one.

In addittion, the Diablo Valley Line operates an interurban system and street car in Potterstown.

A range of hills crosses the right-of-way and divides the different areas in the mainline system.

The technical equipment of the society's project rivals that of a big road. And because funds are limited, ingenuity is the byword.

For one of the electrical systems, the society is using two generators bought at an army surplus store. Before they went into railroading, the generators were used on military aircraft de-icing systems.

Another electrical system will be run by a transformer that used to be in an electrical system of an X-Ray manhine. It handles enough current to light the city of Walnut Creek if six volt lamps were used.

One of the major problems of the Diablo Valley Line, as in any big railroad operation, is keeping track of all the trains and preventing crashes.

Two men will operate the main line system from a control "cab," a balcony in the room. The men will sit in the room about 10 feet above floor level and throw the switch that will keep the trains rolling. They will be guided by an intricate control panel telling them where the trains are and what switches are open.

The model rail systems will be operated by men of the floor of the building.

The society hopes to be ready for a public demonstration of their project in a month or two, although they don't plan to have it completely finished. The purpose of the showing will be to raise funds to maintain the operation.

Members of the societty can't be put in any age bracket. They range in age from 14 to 80.

Until they become 18 years old, members are classified as junior members. Older men who join must pass a six months apprenticeship, and are called student members during that period. When they pass, they become senior members of the society.

The men work at their hobby Tuesday nights, Friday nights and Sunday mornings. The society is looking for more hands, and asks that anyone who has toy trains in their blood drop in some work night and get acquainted.

Wise shoppers patronize home-town merchants. They save money and they know the local merchant is interested in the community.

13 Scout Leaders Complete Course

As a culmination of eight two-hour sessions attended during April and May, 13 Boy Scout troop leaders last week were awarded certificates by Mt. Six subject areas are studied in the training experience, which helps men to qualify as scoutmasters, assistants or troop committeemen. They are patrol and troop organization and leadership, program planning, meetings, hiking, camping and "Helping the Individual Boy to Grow."

The following local men attended all sessions and earned certificates: William Riihimau and Don H. Condit, Troop 220, Walnut Creek. W. A. Giddings, Troop 236, Danville; A. Alton Johanek, Troop 202, Walnut Creek; George Kirkman, Post 305, Pleasant Hill; Ray Sutliff and Lambert LeBien, Troop 205, Pleasant Hill; R. N. Kennel Club Dog Show Scheduled At Acalanes Field

Over 600 show dogs of all breeds are expected to be on display at the annual Contra Costa Kennel Club dog show, set this year for a new site — the Acalanes High School grounds at Lafayette. The show will be open all day Sunday, June 28.

The club giving the show, which is licensed by the American Kennel Club, has been completely reorganized, and is headed this year by Dr. J. C. Murphy of Orinda.

Points gained by dogs exhibited in the show will count toward AKC championships, and Obedience Trial classes will also be included, bringing trained dogs from all over the state to compete for AKC Obedience degrees.

Other new officers of the Contra Costa club include Stanley J. Cook of Walnut Creek, vice-president. Comm. Byron Jeffries of Sun Valley, second vice-president; Al Brown of Berkeley, secretary; Mrs. Milo Hansen of Lafayette, treasurer.

The bench show committee is headed by John McClurg of Sun Valley, and includes Albert Wahl of Lafayette as Obedience Trial chairman, Mrs. Al Brown of Berkeley, and the officers of the club.

Ten nationally-known judges to officiate at the show include Frank Creasey of Canada, A. W. Forbes of Tacoma, Myrtle Twelvetrees of North Hollywood, and Kenneth Dyer of San Francisco.

Recent cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Miller.

Dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Colvin for Mr. and Mrs. James Small who are visiting here from the Hawaiian Islands.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR Dr. Charles Rowe. Barbecued steaks, funny gifts, croquet matches and much laughter that could be heard for blocks.

The Oliver Meeks have found a home on Requa Road in Piedmont so will spend a good part of the summer moving from their Lafayette home.

The G. W. Millers and Sandy, Steve, Nancy and Roy are packing for a trip to Echo Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howell Turner are home from Bronxville, New York where they had a wonderful time visiting their old friends. They have not lived there for several years so there was a party practically every night. Before leaving for the east Mrs. Turner's sister-in-law Mrs. William Cunningham visited here after attending the Junior League Convention in Coronado, so there was a cocktail party in her honor for her many friends in this area.

Another cocktail party was that given by Mr. and Mrs. James Black Jr. who are moving to Denver. Friends from all over the Bay area and down the peninsula gathered together for a farewell. Among those from our territory were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shurtleff, Charles Wheeler, Harry Jackson, Oliver Hamlin, Oliver Meek, Harmon Howard, Lawton Shurtleff, Stanley Dollar, Willard Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Slattery, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black (Shirley Temple). And so another house for sale this one charmingly hidden away in Reliez Valley where you can scarcely find it unless you know where to look.

Luncheon at Mrs. Embree Hockenbeamer's home for the new board of the Garden Club for the purpose of making plans for the coming year. Incidentally Mr. and Mrs. Hockenbeamer are just home from two weeks on their boat the Nan San at Clear Lake. Their trip was punctuated by rain, hail and very cold weather — heavens, they could have stayed right here in Orinda and gotten all that.

HAVE YOU SEEN those funny "top banana" hats — big, floppy, tam-o-shanter visor caps in wild colors — well, Dr. James Seaman and Mr. Burten Kohler wore them to a couple of parties last week-end but, according to our informer, they wore them TO but not AT the parties because they are hard to keep on in the wind. Now what do you suppose was meant by that — was the conversation at the cocktail party a lot of hot air?

Back from a high school reunion at Santa Ana — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyle.

Dr. Garnis Curtis, Professor of Geology at the University of California, is off for the Aleutians for the summer on a field trip.

Last Saturday and Sunday evenings Mrs. Bernard Wilbur entertained with dinner parties for her friends.

Home from the Ahwanee at Yosemite are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang and Luzanne. The excitement of the moment was a movie company on location filming scenes for Caln Mutiny. Mae Wynn and Robert Francis were on hand and the local Yosemite people staged the largest fire-fall ever. Do you know what a fire fall is? A huge bon fire is built on top of Glacier Point and then, when it gets going good it is pushed over the cliff.

The annual Sleepy Hollow cocktail party for the purpose of exposing new comers in the area to the old habituees was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fayram on Sunday from 4 to 7. Chairmen for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang and the committee was Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sorem, Ernest Starkman, Richard Fayrams, Al McCann, Boone Robinson, Thomas Fergusen, Miles Sutliffe, Francis Wyatt and Frank Coffey.

Bridge luncheon recently given by Mesdames Sterling Smith Dan Carter and R. L. Kocher.

The N.R.O.T.C. Annual Commissioning Ceremony was held in Palo Alto on Saturday and Herbert Dwight was commissioned an Ensign. He has been assigned to the U.S.S. George Clymer and will go to Coronado for a six week training course. The following day Herbert graduated from Stanford.

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT the new Branch of the Children's Hospital in Orinda. The Lombardy Branch, under the guidance of Mrs. William Harold Oliver, is setting forth to plan projects to raise money for that worthy cause. Chairman is Mrs. R. J. Maddox; co-chairman, Mrs. R. P. Rasmussen; secretary, Mrs. Robert Lyman; treasurer, Mrs. Sterling Smith; membership, Mrs. Joseph Downs; historian, Mrs. Dan Carter. Members are Mesdames Jack Moylan, Cecil Cantrilli, R. L. Kocher, Nels Hamburg, Paul Baillie, W. C. Witter and Allan Waddell. They meet once a month for snails and coffee followed by a business meeting.

SLUMBER PARTY at the Peter Veitch home for daughter Nancy. There was dinner, a movie and sleeping bags but no one is too sure about the slumber.

Neighborhood Open House at the Jack Jansse's for graduating daughter Liz who plans to go to San Jose State College next year. Also on hand was Janet Jansse who is in training at Providence Hospital.

Ask Association Support of Move For Road Lights

Support of the Orinda Association for efforts to obtain better highway lighting between the eastern end of the Broadway Tunney and Orinda was urged by the association's Civic Affairs Committee Monday night.

William Wilke of the Orinda Oaks Association asked the delegates at the monthly Civic Affairs meeting at Orinda School library what had happened to his complaint of several months ago regarding the poor lighting, especially for the first half-mile or so this side of the Tunnel.

He said he had missed some Civic Affairs meetings since then and had heard nothing further about the matter.

IT WAS EXPLAINED by Civic Affairs Chairman Frank Hart that it had been decided that the complaint, although justified, was outside the jurisdiction of the Orinda Association, insofar as direct activity by the organization was concerned.

Horace Breed suggested to Wilke that the Orinda Oaks Association secretary write to Chairman Elliot J. Hartman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, asking federation action on the problem.

IT WAS MOVED by William Penn Mott Jr. that the Orinda Association board also write to Hartman, supporting the Orinda Oaks request. The motion was unanimously carried.

Mott said that the lights on the western approaches to the Tunnel were installed by the state but are maintained by the city of Oakland.

Morrow to Speak On 'The Rock'

Combined sessions of Orinda Community Church services and Sunday school will be held at 10:30 a.m., beginning Sunday, according to Reverend Fred Morrow.

The hour has been set forward from the previously announced time because of overlapping with the prior service of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church held in the same chapel.

Special lessons centering around the life of Paul the Apostle will be used in the Sunday school, each week's study to be supplemented with a Cathedral sound film presenting an episode from the Book of Acts.

The opening program Sunday will deal with "Stephen, First Christian Martyr." Boys and girls of the Primary grades will share the film portion of the lessons. The general supervision of the summer quarter is in the hands of C. Ray Fowler.

"The Book" is the topic of the sermon by the Rev. Morrow in the Church Service held in the chapel. He will deal with the controversial question of the meaning of Matthew 16:18, "Thou art Peter, and on this rock will I build my church."

Margaret Popovich will direct the chapel choir in an anthem and other music designed to lead the congregation in inspiring worship.

At the memorial organ is Daniel Popovich. Young people returning from the East Bay camp at Cazadero will report on their experiences at the Pilgrim Fellowship meeting at 6:45 in the Fellowship hall.

Christian Science Services Planned

The First Church of Christ Scientist, 42 Orinda Highway, will continue to hold services as usual during the summer.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday, with Sunday School services at 9:30 a.m.

Wednesday meetings will be at 8 p.m.

Richard Spight To Edit Paper

Richard Spight of Orinda was recently named sports editor of the Oregon State College, Daily Barometer, student newspaper, and was initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, national honor fraternity for men in journalism.

As sports editor of the Barometer, Spight will be in charge of the sports page and will direct coverage of intercollegiate, intramural and all other sports news. Membership in Sigma Delta Chi is elected from outstanding students on school publications who plan careers in journalistic fields.

Spight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Linsey H. Spight, 135 Orinda Highway. He is a junior in agriculture.

Prayer Services Have New Time

At the new time of 8:30 a.m., Sunday morning prayer will be conducted for members of St. Stephen's Episcopal church by the Reverend Charles M. Hill, at the Orinda Community Church, with child-care provided for small children during the service.

In observance of the third Sunday after Trinity, the vicar will direct his sermon to the congregation, slanting scripture to everyday living, and emphasizing the application of selected Biblical passages on the Orinda scene.

Music has been prepared by St. Stephen's Choir under the direction of Mrs. T. J. Fahay, and will include as offertory anthem "Prayer" by Burt. Mrs. Fahay will play the organ selections, "Pastoral Prelude" by Armstrong, and "Festival March in F" by Gaul.

As part of the preparation for the new St. Stephen's church to be built on Via Las Cruces in Orinda, the Organ committee, headed by James A. Brown, is extending its research to include the foremost churches in the Bay area. The committee will visit Berkeley this week in an effort to evaluate the various types of organs with reference to their suitability to the rustic redwood and brick construction of the new building.

Selection and purchase of the organ will be based on the findings of Brown's committee.

Throughout the summer Communion services will be held every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Orinda Community church. Following the short service, a one-half hour study session will be conducted regularly by Mr. Hill. Choir practice will be held at the regular time of 8:30 p.m.

Lutheran Church To Baptize First Child Sunday

Alexander Hecathorn will be the first child baptised at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church.

Alexander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hecathorn, 10 Arbor Way, Hidden Valley.

The church is located in its temporary chapel at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road across the street from the Orinda Fire House Number 2.

The sermon topic at both the 8 and 11 a.m. service will be "Bringing Your Children to Christ."

Tom Kling, 10 Rita Way, is superintendent of the Sunday School, and will speak at the Family Worship Service at 9:30 a.m.

Canyon Girl Wins AAUW Scholarship

Mary Patricia Malvey, a second semester student at the University of California, is the winner of a scholarship presented by the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women, it was announced this week.

The scholarship was set up by the group in the memory of Mrs. Daisy R. Marchant, a charter member and organizer who died last year.

Miss Malvey is a graduate of Acalanes High School and the daughter of Mrs. George Reily of Canyon.

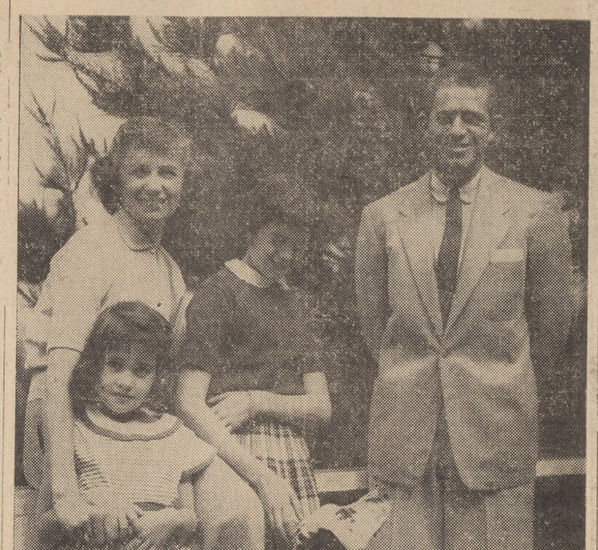
Half of the $200 scholarship is being presented by the Walnut Creek AAUW and the other half is given by the families of Mrs. Marchant and the late Paul Marchant of Lafayette.

Mrs. Marchant, a graduate of the University of Pittsburg in 1906 received her master's degree from the University of California in biological science. She discovered several seaweeds that bear her name.

Hammills in Home

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Hammill, formerly of Piedmont ,have moved to their new home 23 Valley Drive, Orinda.

Family Portrait . . .



WHEN YOUNG Stuart Henderson returned from a business trip to Bermuda, he found an attractive young woman at his table in the Oakland boarding house where he lived.

Even though calculating machines and drama don't, offhand, seem a likely combination, the meeting of the two people resulted in marriage.

The assistant district manager of the Monroe Calculating Machine Company and the drama teacher at University High collaborated on a real-life script in which the setting was shifted in 1941, when the Hendersons moved to Orinda.

Today the family, at its home at 12 Loma Vista, Orinda, consists of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Julia, 6 (pictured in front of her mother), and Judy, 12.

Then, of course, there's also Belle, the family pet — a Dalmatian dog.

After World War II the Hendersons decided to go into farming. Not ordinary farming — but the raising of almonds and supplying corporations with fancy salted almonds in Christmas gift packages. That is to what their farming activity has expanded, with the business now in its fifth year. They have an orchard near Turlock.

Undeterred by this vocation, Henderson's hobby is raising vegetables.

Mrs. Henderson has continued her interest and activity in drama. Her main hobby is acting, and as a star in productions of the Orinda Mothers Club's annual "Absurdia in Suburbia" she has delighted local audiences.

When she attended Mills College she was president of the Drama Association and was a member of the Palladian honor society. In addition to having taught drama at University High, she has played summer stock in the East and has performed on the radio in San Francisco.

She was one of the founders of the Orinda Nursery School. Her husband is a former director of Orinda Park Pool.

Both daughters are students at Orinda School.

As a student at the University of California, Henderson was sophomore and junior crew manager and a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity and of Phi Phi, men's honor association.

The family's suggestion for improving the community? It's unanimous — "Enforce speed limits!"

Magnesium – It's Necessary if Plants Are To Keep That Fresh Green Look

By BERT WRIGHT

In the verdant month of June, we see magnesium in action. Why? Because it makes plants green. Chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plants, is a complex chemical compound containing magnesium as one of its building blocks, so you can readily see how great a quantity of this element green plants require every year.

However, the chlorophyll magnesium is but a small part of the total required by plants. This element serves in other capacities too, such as helping to transplant phosphorus within the plant and acting as a catalyst in the growth processes.

Most soils contain some magnesium since it occurs as mineral silicates in parent rocks. Certain igneous rocks and dolomite limestones contain a large proportion of magnesium compounds.

Acid soils — particularly those of sandy texture, are often magnesium-deficient for cultivated plants although forest trees seem to be able to forage for their requirements.

Much of the Northeast and Southeast is actually or potentially magnesium deficient, as are localized areas in other sections of the country.

If you use lime on your garden, specify dolomitic lime, since high-calcium lime contains little or no magnesium. Complete plant foods are good sources of this element, but organics contain only traces — and magnesium is an element required in far greater quantities than mere traces.

Shopping at home has a number of advantages. You save time, effort — and money too.

delphinium for the background and the tall ageratum Blue Perfection, tall phlox or Tom Thumb zinnia for a high edging.

For a low border try lobelia, ageratum or dwarf begonia.

But be sure to leave the robust asters ample room to grow and prosper.

Orinda Jr. Women Study Civic Needs

Members of the newly formed Orinda Junior Women's Club met Monday evening to install charter officers and discuss with Robert D. Harrison plans for answering Orinda's civic needs.

Harrison, an active Orindan and member of the Community Center Project Committee of the Orinda Association, outlined for the club possibilities for a recreation center and some of the plans under consideration by the Orinda Association for other community needs arising out of the rapid growth in Orinda's population.

Studies by the association are being made to determine how other similar suburban areas have solved their needs for recreation centers, parks, playgrounds, pools, theatres, meeting halls and the like.

From these suggestions and further information to be obtained, the philanthropic committee of the Orinda Juniors will choose one community project for the club to support. This program will be launched in the fall. These aspirations coincide with those of the Lafayette Junior Woman's Club.

During the summer months the club has plans for several social events, including a card party on July 13 and a dance and barbecue at Carroll Ranch, Moraga, August 15. Official meetings will resume in September, when the club will meet on first and third Monday evenings of each month.

Officers who took their pledge of office at the Monday candlelight installation are Mrs. Walter E. Estes, president; Mrs. Vernon E. Louis, vice-president; Mrs. Howard J. Gravelle, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul E. Gregg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Howard J. Libby, treasurer; Mrs. Anthony Yriberri, auditor; and Mrs. Donald McNary, parliamentarian. The club's adviser is Mrs. Roy C. Young of Piedmont.

McCaffery, social; Mrs. Beau Guinther, membership and amenities; Mrs. Walter R. Ammon, inspiration; Mrs. John Bedecarre, historian; Mrs. Edmund F. Wilford, publicity.

Committees Named By Humpty Dumpty

Mrs. Robert N. Bovard, newly-elected president of Humpty Dumpty Chapter, Children's Home Society, conducted the regular monthly meeting of the chapter last week.

She presented a report on proceedings at a joint meeting of the East Bay Council and Coast Counties Council of Chapters at the Berkeley Women's City Club on May 28. Several members of Humpty Dumpty Chapter were present at the luncheon to hear an address by Wesley Le Fever, president of the society's state board.

Committee chairmen appointed to serve for the coming year are Mrs. Robert E. Peterson, historian; Mrs. James Warren, telephone chairman, and Mrs. Robert Holmes recipe chairman.

Final plans were announced for the fund-raising projects to be undertaken by the individual members of Humpty Dumpty Chapter during the summer months. Each member will choose the activity which she prefers for the means of contributing her share toward the chapter's total; such as a dessert bridge, barbecue or sale of baked goods.

The proceeds from the summer projects will be used to aid in the services of Children's Home Society, statewide private adoption agency.

Suggestions for a fall project for the group were discussed, and the final decision on this subject will be announced later. The chapter will hold no regular meetings during the summer months. The next meeting of the group is scheduled for September.

Forbrags Eke By Ricks Drive In

In a tight contest Wednesday night, Forbrags Realtors put themselves on top of the Walnut Creek Softball heap by edging by Ricks Drive In, 3-2, in an extra inning game.

The game gave the realtors a 4-1 record and left Ricks with a 2-2, tied for third place behind Tinys Hut with Super Saver Market.

Ricks started in good shape putting one run across in the top of the first frame. They held their one run lead for one inning.

Messy fielding in the bottom of the second let Forbrags score two runs.

The realtors rested on their 2-1 lead through two innings, until Ricks came back in the fifth to tie the score with a run.

At the end of the seventh an extra inning was called and Ricks failed to score in the top half.

The realtors clouted out two hits in succession to score the winning run. Ray Nivola, Forbrag catcher, got the run batted in credit as his hit drove in Al Perreira, running for Ed Gallagher.

Art Heasell, Forbrag mound man, let the opposition clout seven hits and Gus Teicheiro, losing pitcher, gave up eight hits.

In the second game of the evening, Super Saver Marekt played an exhibition game.

Caswell Rated Tops at Races

Qualifying rounds will open the program at 7:30 p.m. with the first race following an hour later.

Forbrags Takes 4-0 Victory from Grodins

Tiny's Hut played Grodin's of California last night after SUN press time to threaten the Forbrags top spot. While Grodins went to bat with a 1-2 record, Tiny's started with a 3-1 win-loss standing.

A win would equal the Forbrag standing of 4-1.

Tiny's Hut Downs Drive Inn Nine 4-0

The Tinys Hut nine downed Ricks Drive In 4-0 last Friday night in the Walnut Creek City Park in the first game of a double header.

The tavern softballers were sparked by pitching of Ed Bills who underhanded a one hit game. Gus Teichero, the losing chucker, gave out five hits.

Jim Teichero of Ricks got the lone hit for his team in the sixth. Tinys scored one run each in the second, third and fifth and sixth frames.

Two big innings, the second and third wrapped up the game for the Super Saver men. When the second ended they sat on top of a 3-0 score. In third they started a rally that wasn't stopped until 6 men crossed home plate.

With the score 9-0 the jets zoomed in one run in the fourth and the game was scoreless until the Jets scored two more counters in the bottom of the sixth.

Inspection Rules Are Tightened Up

Tightening up on subdivision inspection was ordered Wednesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board approved a proposal by Joseph W. Barkley, county surveyor, that subdividers and developers furnish more details on contractors to do jobs and on improvement schedules in order to make inspection easier.

Developers are now required to give 48 hours notice of the start of each phase of improvement on any project.

Negotiations Fail To End Walk Out

Settlement of disagreements between AFL Construction Laborers and representatives of the Associated General Contractors failed to materialize in negotiations Wednesday.

Laborers have walked off jobs where contractors have failed to meet their demand for a 20-cent hourly wage increase, shutting down most construction in the county.

The wage demand would bring the wages of the laborers to $2.05 an hour, the same paid men for similar work in Southern California.

Kracke also said the members of the county contractors association would meet Monday evening at the Orinda Roost to discuss their plans for ending the tie-up.

The contractors have offered a 10-cent an hour wage boost.

The date the strike will end cannot be predicted, Fred Kracke of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County told The SUN yesterday.

Christian Science Sermon Topic on Atomic Evolution

The subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, will be one of especial interest at the present time, namely, "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Bible citations in the sermon will include these verses from Hagai: "For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts" (2:6, 7).

From the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following correlative passage will also be read:

"Beholding the infinite tasks of truth, we pause, — wait on God. Then we push onward, until boundless thought walks enraptured, and conception unconfined is winged to reach the divine glory" (p. 323).

Camp Wolfeboro Seeks Personnel

When we came to the West, we found out...
Gas and electricity are cheap in California
say the John Brodas, of San Jose

How P. G. and E.'s low rates save the Brodas money

In their comfortable San Jose home, the Brodas use these appliances to make life more pleasant:

The Brodas' P.G.and E. bill (recent month) $8.57
In their former home the same amount of electricity and gas would cost . . $16.02

In 1951, when they came to California, the Brodas discovered the low cost of gas and electricity here. Like many other newcomers, they pay far less for these utilities than in their former home. Actually P. G. and E. rates are lower than in 1938. Let this bargain gas and electricity lighten your work, add to your leisure.

Sun Is Misquoted In 2 Controversies

An Editorial

In the past few days two spokesmen for partisan groups involved in different controversies in the area have announced that they have the support of The SUN newspapers.

A paid representative of the East Bay United Crusade reportedly said that The SUN is supporting a plan to form a Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda Council of that organization.

This week a spokesman for the city of Concord, which objects to annexations of sections of Clayton and El Monte to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, also claimed our support.

We are completely at a loss to explain just how or why either of the gentlemen think we are supporting their arguments. We have not editorialized on either issue to date.

In the case of the United Crusade, The SUN presented background in stories listing pro and con arguments. We have covered negotiating meetings at some length. We have not yet come to any conclusion as to the merits of the plan and what would be best for our communities.

In the case of the proposed Clayton-El Monte annexation to the Central Sanitary District, we are publishing pro and con facts in today's issue. As a matter of fact, taking an editorial stand in the matter right now would be indeed foolish, because no specific plans for annexation have been publicized. Furthermore, we may not announce our "opinion" on this subject, but will go along with the decision of our very good board of directors of the Sanitary District.

Newspapers are traditionally jealous of their right to editorialize when they wish and in such manner as they see fit. They reserve this right just as fervently as a baseball fan reserves his right to "advise" the umpire.

It is cause for some indignation on our part when any person, without any reason whatsoever, takes it upon himself to announce that he has the support of The SUN.

Boy's Camp Idea Makes Headway

The Contra Costa Citizens Committee for Establishment of a Rehabilitation Camp for Boys for the county, headed by Mrs. H. F. Neller of Lafayette, had partial success Tuesday.

The Board of Supervisors agreed to make a thorough study of establishing a camp in the county for delinquent boys.

However they said no provision could be made in the 1953-54 budget, now in the final stages of preparation.

They said they would inspect camps already in operation in other counties and make a thorough investigation of all factors involved with the view of establishing the cam next year if a favorable decision is reached.

Car Catches Fire After Collision

A rear end collision early Tuesday morning on Mt. Diablo Boulevard resulted in one car overturned in flames and the second car in a field.

There were no injuries.

A car driven east by Elzie Craven of Danville struck the car being driven by Floyd Tibbets of Walnut Creek at 12:15 a. m.

The crash forced the Tibbets car to overturn and it burst into flames. Craven's car veered across the road and stopped in a field.

The Lafayette Fire Department put out the blaze.

EBMUD Announces Rate Reductions

Lower water rates that will save East Bay Municipal Utilities District customers more than $850,000 a year were announced last week by Louis J. Breuner, president of the EBMUD Board of Directors.

The lower rates will come into effect Sept. 1.

"Your Board of Directors is very pleased to announce this sizeable rate reduction which has been made possible by continued economies in the operation of the East Bay's publicly-owned water system, the increased use of water in our fast-growing service area, and lowered interest rates resulting from the district's program of constantly reducing its bonded indebtedness," Breuner commented, in announcing the action of the Board of Directors taken at last week's regular public meeting.

"Such a reduction is particularly gratifying at this time, in view of the generally increasing costs of practically every other commodity we use today in our homes and businesses," Breuner said.

The reductions are as follows:

For the the first 3,300 cubic feet, from 22 cents to 20 cents; for the next 30,000 cubic feet, from 20 cents to 18 cents; for the next 300,000 cubic feet, from 14 cents to 12 cents; for the next 300,000 cubic feet, from 12 cents to 9 cents; and for the next 600,000 cubic feet, from 10 cents to 9 cents.

The District's monthly service charge will remain unchanged.

Breuner pointed out that the reduction in EBMUD rates, already the lowest in the San Francisco Bay area, will be a further encouragement to the residential and industrial development of the East Bay area.

"Your utility district clearly recognizes the importance of adequate supplies of high-quality water at low rates as one of the most essential elements in the continued development of our communities.

"These new low rates, together with our Mokelumne River supply and the district's long-range planning for the future, offer an unbeatable combination which can be used effectively in the solicitation of industry and attendant home development in the area, from which both existing and new residents unquestionably benefit," Breuner concluded.

SAFETY IN PASSING

When you want to pass another car ahead, do not rely on your hand signal alone to clear the way for you, advises the California State Automobile Association. Signal, but also make sure no other car is trying to pass you at the same time.

Early Solution of Road Needs Seen; May Ask Interchange Bids in August

Frank B. Durkee, state director of public works and chairman of the California Highway Commission, said Wednesday night that the commission is well aware of the highway problems of this county and that he believed, what with increased revenues to be available, that some of these problems will be solved in the near future.

Durkee's statement was made at a dinner get-together of the entire commission, county supervisors, state legislators and community leaders at the El Rio Motel in Antioch.

DURING INFORMAL discussion with highway officials it was mentioned that the state has completed all plans for the $1,800,000 Orinda Interchange and will probably call for bids in August.

The gathering was in celebration of near-completion of the Pittsburg-Antioch of the Arnold Freeway, expected to be open to traffic in a few weeks.

The commissioners and other state highway officials were guests of County Board of Supervisors.

AMONG THE 70 persons at the meeting were Elliot J. Hartman, chairman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation; Vance Perry, secretary-manager of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce; Iona Booth, manager of the Contra Costa County Development Association, who arranged the details of the gathering; President Ed Larmer of the Development Association; Joseph Judson, chairman of the highway committee of the Development Association,; State Senator George Miller Jr. and Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle and S. C. Masterson.

The gathering was social in nature, and formal presentations of local highway needs were not made.

Judson and Board of Supervisors Chairman H. L. Cummings welcomed the highway officials.

ORIGINALLY, the state and county officials had planned formal tape-cutting ceremonies of the new freeway section for this week, but strikes delayed construction.

So, instead, the informal dinner celebration of the 99-per-cent completion and near-opening was held.

Highway commissioners present, in addition to Durkee, were Chester H. Warlow, James A. Guthrie, Harrison R. Baker, Charles T. Leigh, H. Stephen Chase and F. Walter Sandelin.

ALSO ON HAND were Commission Secretary R. C. Kennedy, G. T. McCoy, state highway engineer and chief of the Division of Highways; Fred Bagshaw, assistant director of public works; Assistant State Highway Engineer F. W. Panhorst, in charge of bridges; Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker of District IV and J. P. Sinclair, District IV engineer.

In addition, there were several men from the state highway staffs in Sacramento and San Francisco, and mayors and councilmen of a number of Contra Costa cities.

All five Contra Costa County Supervisors were at the dinner.

Grand Jury Hits Patrol Car Lacks

Lack of proper equipment on sheriff's patrol cars in the county came under fire recently in a letter to the Board of Supervisors from the County Grand Judy.

The letter urged that the board seek legislation that would allow "red lights, sirens and other equipment." The fleet of 21 sheriff's cars is leased by the county from a private owner, Sheriff James N. Long.

State law prohibits privately-owned vehicles from being equipped with red lights, sirens and other equipment.

The letter said that the lack of equipment gives sheriff's deputies no more right "in exceeding speed limits when necessary nor to stop other vehicles than a private citizen would have."

The cars are now equipped with red lights.

Soil District to Sell Equipment

The board of directors of the Contra Costa Soil Conservation District at its meeting earlier this week in Walnut Creek approved the sale of four equipment items.

Bids on the three unsold items will be accepted until the 14th day of July, the board stated.

The board accepted a proposal to include the Mt. Diablo State Park in the district and forwarded it to the State Soil Conservation Commission for subsequent action.

Four new applications for district assistance and five conservation plans were reviewed and approved.
